November 15, 2012

It was great meeting with everyone during conferences and getting to know you a little bit better, learning more about your child, and sharing our questions, concerns, and successes with each other. I truly believe I have the best job in the world and could not be more lucky to have such an amazing group of parents to work with.

This week we finished up our White House craft and writing, began writing our "Mouse Books" (mini-books) after reading Library Mouse, and wrote and shared what we are thankful for. We have a very caring and compassionate class, which is something I am very thankful for.

As a reminder, we have no school on Monday, November 26th. We will be back on Tuesday, the 27th.

Need to keep your child busy and distracted while you're cooking Thanksgiving dinner? Put them on IXL! If you lost the paper given at conferences, just send me an email and I'll send you all of the info again needed to log-on. I've added the websites listed on the page to our class website for easier access as well!

I'm wishing you a week off full of things to be thankful for! See you soon!
